IONYX PTY LTD

Ionyx is here to provide state-of-the-art digital solutions to large companies with complex processes, who are ready to embrace everything technology has to offer.

Ionyx also has some mature solutions that are focused on improved efficiency and safety of employee travel processes.

1. Fly2Work is an online site travel management tool which provides a unified platform where travellers can manage all of their flights, transport to sites and accommodation well into the future. And companies can easily monitor and access this data with no redundant or unnecessary human interaction required. This solution is extremely effective in managing Fly-in/fly-out workforce for the energy industries.

2. JMS - Journey Management System is a land travel management tool that simplifies the process of creating and planning your riskier driving journeys, along with providing automated critical notifications.

Summary

IONYX is a specialist digital, technology, creative and communications consultancy. We provide strategic creative technology services via offices in Australia and the UK.

Our clients include many of the world's leading corporations, financial institutions, retailers, government-supported organisations, wholesalers, assistance groups, worldwide networks and exciting start-ups.

IONYX traces its roots back to 2013 when we were a start-up telephone and data provider, maturing into software development.

Today, IONYX is a specialist agency that manages the full life cycle of branding, creative, software and technology development.

We are 40 (and counting) passionate people with a global reach. Our head office in Brisbane, Australia exists in the centre of this flourishing ecosystem, and we are proud leaders and innovators within our sector.

Description

Ionyx is here to provide state-of-the-art digital solutions to large companies with complex processes, who are ready to embrace everything technology has to offer.

2. JMS - Journey Management System is a land travel management tool that simplifies the process of creating and planning your riskier driving journeys, along with providing automated critical notifications. A valuable safety tool for any company that has long road journeys as part of their normal operations.

3. SPR - Site Pandemic Response is a mobile app and web portal based COVID-19 Symptoms Checker/Questionnaire. SPR automates all compliance to help screen anyone that has a touchpoint with any of your job sites, eliminating manual questioning and ensuring complete compliance and a high level of safety response to COVID-19.
